The following graph represents the total number of students taking part in math classes from Monday to Friday.

How many students took part in the math class on the following days?

1) Monday .................................................................
2) Tuesday ..............................................................
3) Wednesday ............................................................
4) Thursday ..............................................................
5) Friday .................................................................
6) Which day had the lowest attendance? .........................
The following graph represents the total number of students taking part in math classes from Monday to Friday.

Answers

The number of students on the following days:

1) Monday: 6
2) Tuesday: 4
3) Wednesday: 2
4) Thursday: 5
5) Friday: 1
6) Which day had the lowest attendance? Friday.